Abstract Objectives: To ensure the long term conservation and sustainable use of the fishery resources in the South East Atlantic Ocean. Summary of provisions: When implementing the Convention, Parties undertake to, inter alia, adopt measures based on the best scientific evidence available, apply the precautionary principle, take due account of the impact of fishing operations on ecologically related species, and protect biodiversity in the marine environment (art. 3). Article 6 deals with the functions of the established Commission, which include adopting conservation and management measures and determining total allowable catches and/or total levels of fishing effort. Parties further agree to, inter alia, implement promptly the Convention and any conservation, management and other measures which may be agreed by the Commission, take all appropriate steps to ensure their effectiveness, and transmit to the Commission an annual statement on their efforts to implement such measures (art. 13). Other provisions provide for, inter alia, duties of the flag State and port State, and co-operation with the Food and Agricultural Organisation of the United Nations (FAO). Conservation, management and control measures adopted by the Commission are to become binding on the Parties in the manner set out in article 23. Institutional mechanisms: The South East Atlantic Fisheries Organisation (SEAFO) is established and maintained (art. 5). It comprises a Commission, a Scientific Committee, and a Compliance Committee.
