Mission statement

The Standards and Petitions Committee is responsible for ensuring the quality and standards of the IUCN Red List of Threatened Species, developing guidelines for the application of the IUCN Red List Categories and Criteria and ruling on petitions against the listings of species on the IUCN Red List of Threatened Species.

Projected impact for the 2017-2020 quadrennium

The impact of the Standards and Petitions Committee (SPC) on conservation is indirect, through its efforts to maintain and increase the credibility and reliability of the IUCN Red List as the most authoritative source of the conservation status of species.
