4.3. Technical Proposal

The Technical Proposal must address each of the criteria stated below explicitly and separately, quoting the relevant criteria reference number (left-hand column).

Proposals in any other format will significantly increase the time it takes to evaluate, and such Proposals may therefore be rejected at IUCN’s discretion.

Where CVs are requested, these must be of the individuals who will actually carry out the work specified. The individuals you put forward may only be substituted with IUCN’s approval.

IUCN will evaluate Technical Proposals with regards to each of the following criteria and their relative importance:

	Description	Information to provide	Relative weight

4.4.1. The Financial Proposal must be a fixed and firm price for the provision of the goods/services stated in the RfP in their entirety.

4.4.2. Prices include all costs

Submitted rates and prices are deemed to include all costs, insurances, taxes, fees, expenses, liabilities, obligations, risk and other things necessary for the performance of the Terms of Reference or Specification of Requirements. IUCN will not accept charges beyond those clearly stated in the Financial Proposal. This includes applicable withholding taxes and similar. It is your responsibility to determine whether such taxes apply to your organisation and to include them in your Financial Proposal.

4.4.3. Currency of proposed rates and prices

All rates and prices submitted by Proposers shall be in euros (€)

4.5. Additional information not requested by IUCN should not be included in your Proposal and will not be considered in the evaluation.

4.6. Your Proposal must remain valid and capable of acceptance by IUCN for a period of 90 calendar days following the submission deadline.

4.7. Withdrawals and Changes

You may freely withdraw or change your Proposal at any time prior to the submission deadline by written notice to the IUCN Contact. However, in order to reduce the risk of fraud, no changes or withdrawals will be accepted after the submission deadline.

5. EVALUATION OF PROPOSALS

5.1. Completeness

IUCN will firstly check your Proposal for completeness. Incomplete Proposals will not be considered further.

5.2. Technical Evaluation

5.2.1. Scoring Method

Your Proposal will be assigned a score from 0 to 10 for each of the technical evaluation criteria, such that '0' is low and '10' is high.

5.2.2. Minimum Quality Thresholds

Proposals that receive a score of '0' for any of the criteria will not be considered further.

5.2.3. Technical Score

Your score for each technical evaluation criterion will be multiplied with the respective relative weight (see Section 4.3) and these weighted scores added together to give your Proposal's overall technical score.

5.3. Financial Evaluation and Financial Scores

The financial evaluation will be based upon the full total price you submit. Your Financial Proposal will receive a score calculated by dividing the lowest Financial Proposal that has passed the minimum quality thresholds by the total price of your Financial Proposal.

Thus, for example, if your Financial Proposal is for a total of CHF 100 and the lowest Financial Proposal is CHF 80, you will receive a financial score of $80/100 = 80\%$

5.4. Total Score

Your Proposal's total score will be calculated as the weighted sum of your technical score and your financial score.

The relative weights will be:

Technical: 70%
Financial: 30%

Thus, for example, if your technical score is 83% and your financial score is 77%, you will receive a total score of $83 * 70\% + 77 * 30\% = 58.1\% + 23.1\% = 81.2\%$.

Subject to the requirements in Sections 4 and 7, IUCN will award the contract to the bidder whose Proposal achieves the highest total score.

6. EXPLANATION OF PROCUREMENT PROCEDURE

- 6.1. IUCN is using the Open Procedure for this procurement. This means that the contracting opportunity is published on IUCN's website and open to all interested parties to take part, subject to the conditions in Section 7 below.
- 6.2. You are welcome to ask questions or seek clarification regarding this procurement. Please email the IUCN Contact (see Section 2), taking note of the deadline for submission of questions in Section 3.1.
- 6.3. All Proposals must be received by the submission deadline in Section 3.1 above. Late Proposals will not be considered. All Proposals received by the submission deadline will be evaluated by a team of evaluators in accordance with the evaluation criteria stated in this RfP. No other criteria will be used to evaluate Proposals. The contract will be awarded to the bidder whose Proposal received the highest Total Score. IUCN does, however, reserve the right to cancel the procurement and not award a contract at all.
- 6.4. IUCN will contact the bidder with the highest-scoring Proposal to finalise the contract. We will contact unsuccessful bidders after the contract has been awarded. The timetable in Section 3.1 gives an estimate of when we expect to have completed the contract award, but this date may change depending on how long the evaluation of Proposals takes.

A bidder who submits or participates in more than one Proposal (other than as a subcontractor or in cases of alternatives that have been permitted or requested) shall cause all the Proposals with the bidder's participation to be disqualified.

- It is unacceptable to give or offer any gift or consideration to an employee or other representative of IUCN as a reward or inducement in relation to the awarding of a contract. 11. ABOUT IUCN

IUCN is a membership Union uniquely composed of both government and civil society organisations. It provides public, private and non-governmental organisations with the knowledge and tools that enable human progress, economic development and nature conservation to take place together.

Headquartered in Switzerland, IUCN Secretariat comprises around 1,000 staff with offices in more than 60 countries.

Created in 1948, IUCN is now the world's largest and most diverse environmental network, harnessing the knowledge, resources and reach of more than 1,400 Member organisations and some 16,000 experts. It is a leading provider of conservation data, assessments and analysis. Its broad membership enables IUCN to fill the role of incubator and trusted repository of best practices, tools and international standards.

IUCN provides a neutral space in which diverse stakeholders including governments, NGOs, scientists, businesses, local communities, indigenous peoples organisations and others can work together to forge and implement solutions to environmental challenges and achieve sustainable development.

Working with many partners and supporters, IUCN implements a large and diverse portfolio of conservation projects worldwide. Combining the latest science with the traditional knowledge of local communities, these projects work to reverse habitat loss, restore ecosystems and improve people's well-being.

Title: Urban food policy assessment in Mediterranean cities

Objective of the Consultancy

The objective of this analysis is to promote the integration of biodiversity conservation into agricultural and food policies within Mediterranean cities. The consultant will conduct a comprehensive policy analysis in Mediterranean cities that are signatories of the Milan Pact, focusing on identifying existing urban food policies and assessing the inclusion of biodiversity actions. This review aims to identify gaps in current urban food policies and develop recommendations for mainstreaming biodiversity conservation into agri-food systems. The study will address the following questions:

- Have some Mediterranean cities, signatories of the Milan Pact, already integrated biodiversity into their food policies? How do current urban food policies address biodiversity loss?
- What are the gaps and underdeveloped aspects in terms of biodiversity conservation in the current urban food policies?
- What opportunities exist for biodiversity conservation within food policies? Are there any successful experiences or good practices in any Mediterranean city that could be replicated?
- How can urban-rural linkages be strengthened to promote sustainable food systems and biodiversity conservation?

Background

Project Reference: P04342.47 P9 Agriculture and Biodiversity

Donor reference: Fondation Hans Wilsdorf

About the Consultancy

In recent decades, unsustainable food production systems have significantly contributed to soil and ecosystem degradation, as well as the depletion of water resources. Across Mediterranean countries, agricultural landscapes are undergoing a polarizing shift towards either abandonment or intensification. This transformation of agricultural systems has led to the loss of associated biodiversity, as many wild species rely on agro-silvo-pastoral practices, and unsustainable agriculture stands as the primary driver of global land-use change and biodiversity loss¹.

In response to this challenge, the Milan Pact² has emerged as the main governance framework for the development of innovative urban food policies for food systems management. The main objective of the Pact is to foster urban food systems that are sustainable, inclusive and resilient, providing healthy and affordable food.

According to the Mediterranean Programme of IUCN Centre for Mediterranean Cooperation 2021 – 2024, one of the specific objectives of the Nature Conservation and Food System working line is to improve consumers trends in cities and connecting urban population to nature and rural world – improving the link between cities and rural areas. In this regard, following the momentum created by the Milan Pact, IUCN-Med aims to support the implementation of this global initiative at the Mediterranean level enhancing the measures that have a clear positive impact on biodiversity conservation and ecosystem integrity, addressing simultaneously the issues of food insecurity, land degradation, and climate change.

Description of the Assignment

Firstly, the food policies, measures, and interventions of the Mediterranean cities signatories of the Milan Pact will be identified and analysed. The collected information will be reviewed to identify the cities that have already considered biodiversity conservation in their food policies and the actions implemented or planned in this regard in order to understand how biodiversity is integrated into the Framework for Action of the Milan Pact.

Secondly, as a stakeholder engagement activity, specific meetings with representatives of at least 10 cities will be organized to gather complementary information. Based on the preliminary analysis, a set of questions will be developed to identify policy gaps, barriers, underdeveloped aspects, opportunities, and successful experiences related to biodiversity conservation within food policies.

Based on all the gathered information, the policies and measures implemented or planned will be assessed to understand the level of integration of biodiversity conservation within the current food policies and practices, identify gaps in terms of biodiversity considerations, and develop recommendations to mainstream biodiversity in agri-food systems.

The consultant will develop a report targeted at policymakers, providing reliable knowledge about the links between food policies and practices and biodiversity conservation in the Mediterranean context, with special attention to measures that have a positive impact on ecosystems and human well-being.

The consultancy will be based on previous work developed by IUCN. The methodology and activities to be undertaken will be approved and validated with IUCN.
